Quality Policy Statement

The Australian College of Mining Pty Ltd is committed to the development, implementation and maintenance of an integrated Quality Management System and an environment which fosters continual improvement.

To achieve this commitment in the delivery of quality vocational education and training services, we will ensure:

- Compliance with statutory regulations and requirements of the State Regulatory Bodies and Australian Quality Training Framework (AQTF).
- Compliance with the requirements of ISO 9001:2008.
- The needs and expectations of our clients are clearly understood and achieved.
- All employees understand the importance of their individual roles in the organisation and how their actions impact on the quality services provided.
- The health, safety and welfare of employees, clients and visitors remain of the highest priority.
- All employees are given the opportunity to develop their individual skills through the support and training provided by the College.
